

Question # 01

Culture is the essence of the worth while, but there is a clear menace to the very soul of the citizen when culture becomes a tool in the hands of the regime of the day with which to transform the outlook of the citizen.

Comment.

1- INTRODUCTION

According to Auvuch "Culture is complex as whole, which includes, knowledge, art, belief, value, norm, custom and all those capabilities which are needed to be a member of the society." This indicates that the culture is all about a person's way of life. Culture is very crucial to mould the personality of an individual through his/her life. When this culture is learned through the daily ^{on} tasks ^{bases} from their surroundings, so it gives benefits to an individuals. However, when this important and ^{an} independent —

1/1/20

Part of a society has taken in the control of government, it would severely impact the development of the citizens. Moreover, culture is dynamic and it accepts changes and new ideas but government's control does not accept it. It would reject the mode of change in society, it promotes stereotypes, culture losses its authenticity and cultural manipulation can be common in the country. These are then the great obstacles for the progress of the citizens.

2- Culture Becomes Menace For The Citizen ^{when} Regimes has used it as a tool

The famous quote of W.F. Cooley
"I am not what I think I am,
I am not what you think I am
I am what you think I am."

The human surroundings and culture influences him in all aspects. An individual starts learning about his

//_/20

Culture after an "Antal Stage". He becomes what the society and culture are shown to him. When the culture can be transformed to him with all due respect, modern interpretation and with positive achievement then the child becomes ~~to~~ curious to learn and to preserve his culture. But it can be ordered upon him by the reader from any mean, so it impacted the child through-out his life. Therefore, the control of government on culture manifests negative and bad impression in the life of child. Culture is the best mode of knowledge to aware its followers with all best possible and optimistic ways. Consequently, the result of this efforts can be commendable and appreciative. In contrast, when government manipulate the culture according to its benefits and purposes, then the citizens start hating it and would never wanted adopt it. Government's

_ / _ / 20_

Causes the following problem for the citizens.

1- Culture loses its authenticity

Government and the political party use everything for their political purpose. When culture can be politicized, so it would lose its originality.

2- Control and repression

The regime can control the cultural activities and imposes some rule and regulation and restrictions while performing societal functions. This control leads to the suppression of the speech, movement and all other functions.

3- It promotes stereotypes

In every culture of society has many taboos which is not acceptable to the mind of an individual. Therefore, one does not follow it but ^{government} ~~waiter~~ interference promote and restrict to follow the stereotypes concept of culture too.

4- Cultural manipulation

When cultural is politicized, so it can be manipulated for government purpose and benefits. This process makes the culture difficult for an individuals to adopt it in their day to day life.

_ / _ / 20_

5- Expression and Creativity can be not be encouraged

Expression of ideas and creativity are the essential part of culture to be displayed and add to achievement of the society. However, government's can impose its own creativity and ideas to promote culture. This causes the creativity of person to loss his potential.

6- It limits the freedom of thought and ideas of the citizens

Freedom is important for a society to progress and accept new sytle in the life of an individuals. Government's control the thought of citizens through its own interpretations of culture among the citizens.

7- Preservation of culture handle by government

Preservation of culture is the significant for any society to save its culture and to transmit it from one generation to another generation. Government would try to preserve all those cultural achievements which show the regime's good image in front of the citizen. This act also hinders the citizen to learn that culture which is not biased.

_ / _ / 20_

8- It rejects the mode of change in Society

Due to the advancement of technology and all other development, culture also needs to change in some aspects such as the ceremony of wedding, ~~and~~ style of dresses, and food etc. It cannot be possible when government uses the culture as a tool.

9- Development can be reduced

According to changes in the globe, changes inside the country are also inevitable. However, it can be hindered and lags behind in ^{the} process of development when government interprets the culture according to its will and need.

10- Country's achievement can be ignored

The culture of a country mainly focuses on the achievements and the sacrifices of its heroes. If ^{the} government mainly deal with culture for its own benefits, so the importance of heroes and their achievement can not be highlighted and with the passage of time all things can be forgotten.

Conclusion

Culture is indeed the major section of the country. This culture identify the people of different nation from each other. This is the only culture which creates harmony, peace, honesty, generosity and sympathy among the people of the nations as well other countries across the world. Culture has a very positive role to build the good personality of the citizen of the country. As a result the citizens would be patriot and would contribute to the development of their country. Government's control of the culture would snatched these all opportunities of culture from the citizen.