

Essay of (450-500) words (PCs)

"Modern Woman is the rival and not companion of man."

Outline

1) Introduction

Thesis Statement: Woman is becoming important professional and social part of a society positively. However, some people may argue against it but in reality, woman is the companion of man.

2) Modern Woman is playing her part in society to support man (Thesis).

3) Modern Women is competing with man to get equality in every field which negatively influence male dominance (Anti the

4) Despite competing with man, modern woman is trying to overcome the burden of man in daily life activities. (Synthesis)

5) Conclusion.

In the ancient era, there were lack of development because women were house keepers and men were breadwinner but, in modern era, there are more development because women is becoming important professional and social part of a society positively. However, some people may argue against it but in reality, women is the companion of man. In various fields of life, woman is playing her part to support man. Despite competing with men, modern woman is trying her best to overcome the burden of man in daily life activities.

In the modern era, there are many roles performed by woman but the most important is that she is playing her role to support man. Such as, there is more competition in the today's world to get job and fulfill the family needs. Due to bad economic condition of various countries including Pakistan, it becomes very hard for a single person to fulfill the family needs. So, in such situation, woman acts like a companion to earn money through office job, online job like work on fiverr, foodpanda etc or through any other means like stitching clothes etc. In this way, woman is the actual companion of a man.

Modern woman's competing with man for equality which makes them actual rival of a man. Like in modern era, there is more competition for a job because women are also taking part to jobs. In Japan, there was a woman who was doing around sixteen jobs at a time in 2022 (Reuters, Iron lady of the modern world, 2022). Woman jobs create a vacuum for a man to get a job. This all influence the family system also because women are not taking care of their children and houses properly. Furthermore, with the passage of time, male dominance has going to diminish from the society which is the step of destruction of a society. In a nutshell, women are the rival of men in various field of their lives.

Despite competing with man, woman is try to overcome the burden of a man. There is competition between man and woman to secure a job but it is not a fault of woman if she get job first, because merit is equal for every person regardless of his gender which means that if woman gets a job instead of man for a particular post then it means that she has competed with man and gave great performance as compared to the man.

Furthermore, working woman is also supporting her family financially like a working man, she is directly supporting her husband, father or brother to overcome the financial burden. So, in this way, it will be wrong to say that women are rival and not the companion of men.

Conclusively, one may say that women are playing double role to support man. Firstly, as a house keeper, she has to take care of her children, family and house. Secondly, as a working lady, she has to done her professional duties honestly to earn money for her family. Some people argue against it and say that, women are becoming so modern to dominate the societal roles but in reality women also have same goals to fulfil the basic needs of her family as men have goals. After critical analysis, one may easily get to know that ~~now~~ modern woman is actually the companion of a man, not rival of man.