Impact of Climate on Human Nature

Different climates impact differently on humans' behaviour. The cold climate required intense labour work in order to survive. As it poses hurdles which stem despair in humans. While the hope to overcome these obstacle gives strength to humans. In contrary, hot climate does not demand any struggle for sustenance. The moderate climate ^{required} balanced the approach for survival. As it demands the laborious work for existence and to fulfill basic necessities of life. but there is always a hope due to moderate climate. However, in the tropics man does not need to succumb to climate challenges rather they survive with little efforts. Hence, every climate creates discrete circumstances and demands distinct approaches for survival.

Lahore is not just a city of politics but it also an ancient center of culture. The Mughal's culture witnessed glory in this city. It was also a center for Sikh culture. The culture of science and literature also became the part of this city. It was the center of mystics as well. The writer of famous sufi Book Kashif-ul-Mahjook, Hazrat Ali Hajveri known as Hazrat Dara Ganj Bakhsh, is also buried in this city. Even during British era Lahore was leading city of subcontinent in sense of fashion. However, its importance can not be neglected even after independence of Pakistan.
