Title : "Un Realistic Advertisements"

Television advertisements are producing the fanciful and much idealized ^{content} that is far away from the ground realities. This makes the content funny and absurd. From sports man making goals because he takes energy drink, to shampoo ads and the wife panicking over husband's refusal of coffee taste, these commercials have nothing to do with reality based ideas.

Content that is being advertised, barely exists in daily routine. However, getting millions of views on the ads is the only reason for promoting the unrealistic content even more. Such commercials ~~not~~ only captures the audience attention rather than providing the advertised products same as ~~in~~ screen.

Title Freedom of Education; different perspectives

Owing to the question of freedom in the education, there are three schools of thought having different views. Among them, one school of thought opines that there should be a complete freedom granted to children, regardless of their character. Another have a opinion of complete check on children despite of their good conduct. Third school argues that granting freedom should be on a condition that children always observes a good conduct. However, the author argues with the third school of thought, that children will not ensure good conduct until and unless they are provided with suitable environment. It is only possible with education which provide opportunity for growth and development. Because of taking individualistic approach, ~~author~~ and neglecting the importance of education, author disagrees with third group.
