

① How does author characterize the concept of civil society?
 Author characterizes the concept of civil society as a place where people meet with each other to spend their spare time and to exchange their views, which has considerable impact on people perception.

② How does civil society strive towards better socialization drives by tolerance?

All the people of group having common interest may not have common opinion. But in a civil society people value their association more than their conflicts. <sup>they tolerate</sup> and in this way they maintain the solidarity of group that leads to better socialization.

③ what do you understand by term 'social capital'?

The term social capital refers to the ~~the~~ social trust and mutual obligation which is developed in civil society when people tolerate each others different opinions and not let these differences to destroy their solidarity.

④ why does civil society assume the role of a public stake holder?

Date: _____

Civil society assumes the role of Public stake holder as it changes the perception of People. They begin to consider their private interests as collective public interest and try to their best to protect them.

3) What impact is feared by weakening state of civil society?

In a civil society people recognize the importance of public places and do various campaigns to maintain them. However, the weakening of civil society leads to their mismanagement of public places and resources.