

English (Precis and Composition)

NoA Mock - January 2021

QNO2

ANS:

Some of many have usually mentioned that, they had great boss. Though, it has never been asked, what factors differentiate a good manager to and bad. However, from multiple researches it was found that, the managers with leadership qualities prioritized the qualities of their workers. Thus, assigned the assignments based on their abilities. Just because, they follow the chess's role unlike the average managers. The great managers keep a side the differences of all biases and turn on the talent into performance. In last, one can be a leader and a manager, but it requires the mastery over each role.

"A distinction between an Average and the Great manager"

P.T.O

Q3

(1)

How does the 20th century resemble a dystopia?

The 20th century resembles dystopia because, as per the writers of dystopian fiction, they highlighted the world occupied by the weapons of mass-destruction and the state dictatorship. As these things were seen in the 20th century.

(2)

What is common between the two dystopias mentioned in the passage?

The common between two dystopias are many and some of them are, the future shaped by weapons of mass destruction, biological and chemical weapons in Huxley's case. Moreover, in the case of Orwell the nuclear war. They also both agreed upon the social stratification of human by biological engineering.

(3)
Which dystopia would find less congenial?

The dystopia of Orwell seems less congenial, as it is humanly impossible to persistently control the humans through continuous suppression. As the human's psychology would one day break and revert such oppressions. For example the disintegration of USSR is prime example.

(4)
What was the common predication by both?

As, these both writers predicated multiple things, however the common predication of these both writers was the world dominated by America. In short, world controlled by America was the common predication.

(P.T.O)

(5)

What are their views about future considered conflicting?

These views about the future considered conflicting, as both men were writing about the permanent state of war, totalitarian mind control and summed up by the image of a boot stamping on a human face. Not only that, the world being utilised by pleasure and dangers were also in the view.

QNO4

a) He asked the boy, "Why are you shouting at me?"

b) They sat in the shadow of a tree and took some rest.

c) He is neither intelligent nor clever.

d) While driving late night, on the highway, he saw the moon.

f) Go home and take cold shower to soothe you

Q No 5 (B)

As a leader, you are going to face conflict. It comes with the territory. But, before you try to deal with a conflict, you first need to stop and ask yourself the following question: Is it hot or cold to help you. Answer this vital question. Consider these two definitions: hot conflict is when one or more parties are highly emotional, and doing one or more of the following: speaking loudly, or shouting being physically aggressive, or threatening using language; this is incendiary, appearing out of control and potentially explosive.

Q No 6 A

Pose: It is advised by the doctors to heart patients to be away from the ~~pose~~ environment of pose.

Pour: Pouring the medicine without proper measurement is highly risky.

Sore The sores can only be treated with proper treatment

Sour The citrus fruits usually taste sour.

Province Pakistan has four provinces

Providence The providence of the lawyer alerted the victims, that led him to save the evidences.

QNOT

The population of Pakistan has exceeded the number of 220 million, and it is a crystal clear fact that the excessive growth in the population creates poverty along with other issues; on the other hand, at the time of independence the population of Britain was about 50 million, and in 2021 it has only exceeded by 20 million; despite that the people are shifting there and in from all over the world, as only in London every third person is born of other country, the out of 175 lak population of London, 25 lak are the immigrants, if the number of people population of London was 50 lak 74 years ago, it has only exceeded by 40 lak and 300 languages are spoken there.