

Peace is an elusive dream

outline

1 - Introduction

2 - Peace is an elusive dream.

(a) Menace of wars imperils peace.

The United States of America and Europe are at war with Russia over the Ukraine issue. Western country and Middle East country are at war with Israel and Palestine issue.

(b) - Geopolitical conflict are another potential threat to peace.

(c) - Global economic rivalry fuels the fire.

China as political and economic giant on the map of the world has ruffled the feathers of the USA.

(d) - Islamophobia anywhere is a threat to peace everywhere.

Muslims in Kashmir, Gujrat (India), China and Palestine have been mass killing and shooting.

(e) - The curse of terrorism poses danger to peace.

(f) - Rabid nationalism plays the role of a spoiler for world peace.

The ascendancy of white nationalism in the west and Hindutva nationalism in India eat up the prospects of peace like a termite.

(g) - Specter of populism hunts the prospects of peace.

Jan W. Muller writes "The most worrisome prospects of populism are divide and disunity"

(h) - peace will remain an elusive dream in the age of nuclearization.

3 - The dire pitfalls when peace remains an elusive dream.

(a) - violation of human rights become a new normal when peace remain implausible.

(b) - Democracy gets derailed in a milieu of unachievable peace.

(c) - In the absence of peace the economy suffer badly.

(IFP) report, the economic impact of violence and conflict on the globe economy is estimated at almost 14.4 trillion dollars, which is equal to 10.5 percent of the global GDP.

(d) Racisms Surges into the global Society.

Slogans such as "America for Americans and white people", "Israel for Jew" and "India for Hindus".

4- The doable remedies

(a) United nation should play its role to establish peace in the world.

(b) De-nuclearization will bear fruitful results.

(c) Cultural cooperation will do the trick.

5- Conclusion