

Another solution to encounter negative aspects of globalization is ^{the} encouraging of cultural education. Such education aware people to avoid homogenous culture, indicates to minimize the risk of globalization. Unfortunately, globalization poses a threat to local traditions and artifacts which is potentially leading to their loss or become marginalized. Therefore, the significant solution is cultural education through museums. These museums reduce threat of the imposition of global culture on local people. Approximately, 1188 museums are in Pakistan which present strong focus on cultural education and preserve local heritage. Such education counters globalization impacts on cultural homogenization. (Smart scraplers, Number of Museums in Pakistan, 2023). In conclusion, cultural education prevents the drawbacks of globalization.