

Social media has destroyed real life Communication.

Outline

Introduction

Crunch Paragraph.

1. Social media has not overcome real life communication.

a. Social media cannot fulfill the emotional requirement of a person.

b. Students prepares classroom teaching rather than virtual learning.

c. In several businesses direct interaction is the only choice.

d. In sorrow, social media is not a fruitful way to communicate.

e. Due to cyber security this is not an authentic way to depend on.

2. Social media has over-shadowed real life communication.

a. Due to easy and ~~preferable~~ and instant communication people preferably use it.

b. Online learning has become the new norm.

c. There are apps upon which businesses carried out at mass level without being met.

d. Either in sorrows or delights social media has become the integral part of life.

e. The encrypted nature of social media apps makes it friendly to use.

5. Amid the era of social media real life communication still afloat.

a. In social media, more oftenly people's communication are to the point, unlike one-to-one meetup.

b. A physical gathering of masses allows better communication.

c. Businesses on social media not likely to run for long.

d. Despite of easy communication, the closed ones still prefers to meet in occasions.

e. There are several loop holes which allows even encrypted data to theft.

Introduction

Communication is at the very core of our society. That's what makes us human (Jan Koum). Communication is the basic instinct of human nature. They cannot sustain without interacting with each other. Humans are interacting since their inception on earth by different mediums of communication. In present era there are several social media apps which provides easy and swift platforms to fulfill their requirement to hookup with folks, but, nevertheless, social media lacks the potential to fulfill the emotional requirement of a person. It is widely accepted that social media has influenced the real life communication. Although, it's a tool that allow swift way to communicate, but it has not overhadowed the real life communication. Amid the flood of so many social media apps, it is still abloating. Social media has not overly penetrated as it fails to accomplish emotional requirement students as well as business persons don't prefers virtual environment, while concerns related to cyber security is another reason to not overly depend on social media. But to some people social media has over-came real life communication. As it provides easy way to communicate, provide platform to discuss as well as learn from anywhere; besides it, these platforms are bound to secure your data too. However, in between a lot of social media platforms, real communication still abloating. People preferably likes to meet instead ~~to~~ of textings. More oftenly the physical business runs for long as the social media platforms has still several loop holes to cover up.