* Greeks failed to enjoy the nature

* Misinterpretation of Greeks towards nature.

The Greek did not either portray or praise the nature. Even they failed to enjoy the nature because they considered it as obstacle in human development and in agriculture. Furthermore, they thought that the beautiful mountains and green forest were the hook of wild animals. Even they view the sea as a waste of land. During these days art when find no place. After the Greek revolution and ~~some~~ smoke ~~become~~ mixed in nature then they started realized the importance of nature. Therefore in the days of Alexander's there all kind of authors who praise nature in poems, arts and novels in novels.
