

Title : Lying : A ^{Con}demned Sin

Lying is a deadly sin and should be punished just like any other ^{crime} crimes. However, parents often waver and punish their children for their baseless acts without thinking of the result that comes with it. The only acts which ^{need} needs to be controlled are lying and ^{stubbornness} stubbornness. Truth however, has boundaries and comes with one shape, ^{lies} lies are limitless and ^{have} has multiple faces. A historian in other words said that a company of an animal is better than a man's who lies. Therefore, silence is better than lying.

Total preci words (original) - 285

$$\frac{285}{3} = 95$$

Written Preci words : 99

Idea is ok but subject verb disagreement found. Please include the original passage in the pdf.