Science: A Counterclaim to Superstitions Unfounded beliefs And Scientific World : Two Counterclaim

Superstitions are still exists in many parts of world. There are many examples of such believings like some are link with moon and some with barking of dog. But in world of research and techniques these kinds of believes have no place. Science demands for facts and figures and here these ignorant thoughts fail. The other story to these believes is that, it may amuse a ill-mind person but not a acumen, who believe, in facts not on myth.

Do not include examples in precis. Just give their gist.
