Rising Terrorism

Rising terrorism has been the primary threat to people of Pakistan.

The prominent reasons are vertical inequalities in which there is gap between rich and poor and horizontal inequalities in which there is gap between the multiple regions of Pakistan. As a result, in Pakistan, terrorism is fueled by external forces such as India and Tehreek-e-Taliban Pakistan from Afghanistan.

but owing to vertical inequalities and horizontal inequalities. For instance, in Balochistan, people are felt deprived of their resources, whereas, people of tribal areas of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa felt depriving of their fundamental rights. Therefore, terrorist groups are committed to recruit these people who feel inferior, and are having skills to fuel them against the institutions of Pakistan. Thus, Pakistan's national are involved in terrorism, especially from KP tribal areas and Balochistan. To sum up, people of Pakistan are in trouble due to exacerbating terrorism.
