

(Body) Paragraph Structure

Paragraph Heading/Topic: Highly Educated People are the Pre-requirment for Practice of real democracy.
Topic Sentence	The existence of literate masses; highly educated people is necessary to practice the real democracy in the country.
Reason or explanation	The literate masses are those people who have rational thinking and awareness. They know what is really good or bad for them.
Supporting point (1)	They can choose their leader widely. Their education make them good analysis to choose between temporary and permanent.
Example (1)	For example, the literacy rate in USA is 79%. and in Pakistan is 58%. Hence there is huge difference in practice of democracy in both states.
Supporting point (2)	Moreover, well educated people know the power of their vote. They can question the want of state any time.
Example (2)	For example, they hold the accountability of leaders in power. also the low confidence motion in constitution make it clear that masses have power.
Concluding sentence	Therefore, the practice of real democracy initiate from the feature of highly educated people.