Expanding information technology is a blessing or curse.

Outline

1 Introduction

3. Thesis

a. Government announces official Announcements by using social media

b. Social media excels as an entertainer.

Government announces official announcements by using social media. Expanding information technology removes difficulties, faced by the government. In fact, digitalization has blessed all sectors of the economy. One of those blessings, is promoting of mass communication. Every government uses social media to convey same message to the billions of people. For instance, using Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and many other platform has blessed every government worldwide. Thus, it removes all difficulties on the way to government with the help of expanding information technology. To sum up, the government communicates official announcements through social media channels.

Do not add irrelevant things

Promotion

Work on improving sentence structure

Another benefit of expanding information technology provides entertainment. Social media entertains through a diverse mix of memes, videos, and real time updates. The platforms like TikTok showcase a constant stream of creative and funny content. These contents offering users a quick and entertaining way to consume diverse media. AI enhances the overall social media experience. According to TikTok statistics 2023, it has over 1.6677 billion users globally, which indicates that social media has the best entertaining platforms (Demand sage, 46 TikTok statistics in 2023, 2023). In short, expanding information technology provides a multitude of enjoyable experiences across the globe.

Structure is not correct

Structure is incorrect