

Instruction in Youth is like engraving in stones

- Introduction
- Thesis statement: Just as carving on stone leaves an enduring mark, the early education ~~also~~ shapes the individual's future.
- Importance of early education
- Etching the future: The similarities between instruction in youth and engraving in stone
 - ① Enduring legacy
 - ② Building Resilience
 - ③ Education for durability
 - ④ Cultivating Robustness
- Challenges in youth education
 - ① Access to education
 - ② Quality of education
 - ③ Technological advancement and educational Divide
- Effective ways to provide instructions in youth
 - ① The importance of formal education
 - ② The role of censorship programs
 - ③ The importance of family and community
 - ④ The power of online resources

Conclusion