

Empathetic Intelligence and the Role of Educators

Man's survival rests upon training intelligence to include empathy. This responsibility should be taken up by educational institutes.

Neither religion, nor men in power have the capacity or time to ensure social morality. Churches fell prey to irrelevant theology; politicians, Machiavellianism. Moreover, power centric thinking escalates the chances for nuclear destruction. Hence, the educators must train humans to be kind, loving and empathetic individuals.

word count : 65