Circumstances of Women in Conflicts

Circumstances of women are terrible in conflicts. The main reason behind is that women are vulnerable, because they have multiple problems regarding their health, education and socialization. When war starts, so girls and women are invariably affected. For example, those women who are pregnant cannot properly be taken care regarding her health. Besides their health, they also face gender-based violence and rate of child marriages starts increasing. In fact, women pay disproportionately for wars started and waged by men. In Israel-Palestine conflict, nine hundred women became widows, and five thousand five hundred and twenty two pregnant women are suffering from lacking of health care as per United Women. Thus, in conflicts, women are severely affected.
