Translation

In order to know about our flaws, it is necessary to know our enemies opinions about us.

Our friends praises us according to our desires (to please us). First of all, they don't consider our flaws or they don't want to make us sad so hid them or overlook them. Contrarily, our enemies search and find our flaws from ^{our} each corner. Though enemies make mountain of a small thing but there is some reality in it. friend always added good in a friend while enemies added flaws in it him.

That's why we should be grateful to our enemy that make us cautioned about our weaknesses.

On this context enemy is better than a friend.
