

IS PAKISTAN READY FOR DIGITAL

REVOLUTION

Outline:

1. Introduction

Thesis statement

2. What is digital revolution?

3. Pakistan being a challenges facing country isn't ready for digital revolution (Thesis)

(a) Political instability does not provide peaceful and conducive political environment for successful digitalization.

(b) People belonging to old-generation are un-willing to accept innovations

(c) Majority of Pakistani population is unable to buy technological gadgets.

(d) less attention has been paid to the education sector; higher education is the most neglected one.

(e) Lack of uniformity in the so-called information technology institutes.

4. Pakistan despite being a challenges facing country is still ready for digital revolution. (anti-thesis)

(a) The introduction of e-governance, throw a sharp relief that political parties encourages