

CSS Precise 2016

Title: Exploring - Cherokee, Oklahoma.
Precise:

The author was looking for an exceptional place to spend his vacations in May. His friend suggested him to go Cherokee and he started preparation. They travelled by air and reached Qualla Boundary that was in between mountains and was reflecting the past and history. They overcame language barriers and went to a market by the help of natives where they saw different rubber and leather made products. There, they met George who welcomed them and accompanied them till the lunch. George told his story that he work all the day during tour season and before it he was a woodcutter. George added that the local people have many means to earn money one of them is Bingo week. Their final stop was at a museum

in Anall, the came back home
with many memories and decided to go another place next time

(143 words)