

Imran Khan, a cricketer-turned-politician, has earned a huge support and respect among the people of Pakistan. In 1992-winning-team captain Imran Khan had got degree in political science from the renewed university of world, ~~Osaka~~. However, his Love for sport, specially cricket, ^{had} compelled him to play for Pakistan in international level before he officially announced to step in politics. Having made and ^{earned} great name in sports, his dabang entry in politics ~~was~~ ^{has} not got popularity until 2013 elections. In 2013 election, his party won a few seats in KPK as well as in other provinces. In General elections of 2018, his popularity among Pakistan youth made him win the election in ~~at~~ ^{major} provinces of Pakistan and he made a government where he became the PM of Republic Pakistan. His struggle of almost 25⁺ brought him a chance to rule the state. His opponents remained his harsh critics through his tenure and tried him fell in one or the way. He with his cabinet successfully ruled the state for three and half years when he was removed from ~~thrown~~ through the vote of no confidence. He has been accused of several ^{illegal} cases and his political party has almost torn away. His all members joined other parties and he has been left alone.