

Preci Writing

TV advertisements are not growing more realistically despite audience concerns. Marketers always establish idealized characters in unrealistic setting. Their huge differences from reality makes them humorous and disgusting. Marketers spends millions of dollars on such silly and useless commercials. These glossy advertisements donot promote the product they are shown for, but claiming a large number of views on such useless adds are encouraging for makes. However, most of the viewers watch there adds to laugh or some changes channel immediately.

Topic: TV commercials: More Stupidity
then realisticity