

Absurd Advertisements

People often complain about advertisements being unrealistic. This, however hasn't stopped advertisers who seem to be unaware of real life and its problems. They keep showing unrealistic situations from a boss leaving a meeting to couple that ~~does~~ is creation of fantasy. These commercials are repulsive and funny at the same time. The helpless viewer doesn't have a option to skip and this fools the manufacturers of the product who think the number of views is proportional to the success of <sup>their</sup> product. Hence, they keep spending money by hiring such advertisers.
