Negative effects of Social Media on youth.

Excessive usage of social media has negatively affected the life of youth. Using social media has affected the physical well-being of youth. Young ones spend most of their times scrolling social media apps like WhatsApp, Facebook, Twitter, Instagram etc. They also spend long hours surfing through the internet. This has led to increase in obesity, poor vision, fatigue and neck pain. According to a new report by "The vision council", 65% of Americans aged 16-25 experience digital eye strain with symptoms such as dry irritated eyes, blurred vision, neck and back pain and headaches. This report by CBS News has shed light on the impact of social media on youth (Ashley Welch, How digital age..., Oct 2016). To conclude, the well-being of youth is in awe by excessive usage of social media.
