Manto's Art: An Unnecessary Victim of Criticism Manto's Art: A True Image of Society

Manto, a renowned literary artist had faced many criticism about his work. His critics tried to give him a title of immoral writer. But for all that, he remained stick to his work and exposed the dark realities of society. According to him, nature of man is dual with both positive and negative traits. In addition, man nature also varies in different social cultures. Manto's reality based art about sex culture, desires, double standards and social division is a true picture of society and human-being that are living in it.

One more story of Zionism

Mazin Hassan of Mashhad was an artisan by profession. After completion of his education, he started his cinema journey.

He acted as a spokesperson of Palestinian's through his film Independence, where he presented the Zionism act of Israel and his long decades oppression over Hamas's people. ~~The~~ moving forward, the writer described that during the time when Israel was increasing its annexation over Hamas, the same filmmaker send me a link of his new movie over Palestinian's issue.

This film had described that how world was becoming blinded and quite over Palestinian issue; and how world is anti cinema and even politics were being double standardized over that Zionist out of Israel.

This film is a very highly recommended.

But it is a bit long film it will only prove healthy if viewer see it without any pose.

Varied climates and their impact on human beings

Both humid and cold climates have different impacts and necessities on human-beings. The people of temperate zone have to struggle for infrastructures, natural resources and food to survive in harsh weather. To fulfill their needs, people of that zone use forest and rocks. In parallel, people of tropic zone have to put less effort to survive. They remain more vulnerable and active. Similarly, there are two zones, seasonal climatic changes have impact on human-being. During summer, people remain more easy and energetic, but in winter their body activities get slow down.

An effective way of Treating Children Affection: A key of Teacher and Children Relation

There are many theories about teacher and ~~children~~ relationship. Modern theories believe that children freedom is important.

But these theories are not putting light on how to make them positive and psychologically happy. At modern times, it only depends on the teacher's behaviour or rather teacher likes children or just doing it for their profession. Rather, teaching should not be deal like a job it should be a part time activity for the people who have not any encounter with children during the whole day. The word is getting stressful, modern of teaching, have to change from old rules and regulation toward, friendly and affectionated

behaviour of teacher.
