A quaker was, one day, walking on country road. He was, suddenly, met by a highway man, pointing a pistol. The man exclaimed, "Your money or your life?" My friend said, "The quaker, 'I cannot deliver my money, for I should be helping thee in evil-doing.' However, exchange is lawful, and I will give thee my purse for the pistol."

The robbers agree on receiving the purse.
The quaker, at once, held the pistol
at the robber's head and said, "Now, friend, my purse back or the weapon
may go off." "Fire," said the robber,
"There is no powder in the pistol."

A hungry lion slipped out of the forest into a barnyard. One evening, when he saw a plump donkey, his mouth began to water. But just as he was ready to jump on the donkey, a rooster crowed. He was frightened, and so, turned away into the forest again. "Hey! Look at that cowardly lion," the donkey brayed to the rooster, "I am going to chase him" and the donkey ran after the lion. "Wait!" the rooster shouted, "You don't know that..." but it was too late. The lion had turned and killed the donkey. "Ah! my poor stupid friend," the rooster said as he watched the lion eating the donkey, "the lion wasn't afraid of you, but of my crowing".
