Indent the paragraph.

Humans, when faced with mysteries of life and vast nature, ~~are~~ ^{were} afraid of it. So, they ^{needed} to communicate with a supernatural and divine power who ^{controlled} their lives. This ^{led} to the art of giving oracles. The soothsayers decoded the signals from lightning, thunder, some specific animals and birds etc in ancient Greece. And that is how, humans would ^{wanted} know what gods want from them. But in some cases, gods would not reveal themselves to soothsayers. Instead, they manifested themselves to their chosen prophets directly and then prophets ~~were~~ ^{had} told it to people. There were many famous soothsayers in ancient Greece but Apollo was at the top. He conveyed the messages of Zeus while Dodona worked with the assistance of Zeus.
