"It is not your fault, that you are born poor, But if you die poor it's your fault." (Bill Gates)

The World is changing day by day with a rapid speed. This pace is somewhere a blessing and somewhere it is curse. Today's known are unknown tomorrow.

Developing nations are sharing powers with each other. A man was born in south Africa, in the height of discrimination, people today name him, "Anthropologist, Nelson Mandela". The current World is so fast in its pace that, around 4.3 births in per second are assumed. This second would determine the Future of the upcoming world

No one knows the fate of this today's born kid, either will be super giant tomorrow or would demolish in the darkness of history. The British author made a great saying in his book, that today born is not though mattering but what the individual broke the gigantic chains tomorrow. There are many influential names, like,

Manmood Ahmed Nishad, President

Ibrahim Linah, Indian Prime Minister

Nerinder Modi, J.K Rowling herself and Christopher Columbus. The major aspects, which nourishes an individual to a great name can be varied. Those varied segments can bring nations like Israel, she was not even though on the map of the world, but today economically or socially is far better than many Countries. What else can be noted from such a great, remarkable Quotation.

It does not matter, where or what you are born, your foot marks and action would determine you on the chart of the upcoming world.

J.K Rowling an authoress, who wrote many influential books. In her book "The Harry Potter" a character advice the main character, that whoever you are born it does not matter, but when you grow big, you must be known.

This statement regards those varying prerequisites of life, that are assumed to be a change. Everyday, different ethnic children are opening their eyes in the current world.

They are unknown in regions demographical and geographical respectives. These kids grow in different environmental conditions.

Someone faces extreme poverty, lack of nutritional vice, encounter them and with the passage of time they grow to be adults with different names and identity. And, when they emerge, they see their roles in different sectors, some of them are teachers, athletes and many varied personalities. What the authoress said is a specified truth. Today's nobody is tomorrow someone.

An individual faces many challenges and consequently become a supreme person. The measures which affect a person can be his/her decisions.

The onus of a guide can bring him a sequenced destinational paradigm. A man is born free and with passage of time when he/she crosses those all hurdles, face a serene life. J.K Rowling by herself saw various troubles in her life, and today our competitive exams essays are dependent on her remarks.

This is what, when you are born, you are unnoticeable but when grow an adult you are noticeable for many people your parents atleast knows you.

A boy was born somewhere in "Lisbon" his father was addicted to various drugs, he was unknown, worked as sweeper evidences of his sweeper can also be found in various photos of his on internet. He was known by his community only, was ridiculed as skinny boy, in contemporary world, he is named as a legendary football player - Cristiano de Santos Ronaldo nobody noted him and today he is supporting various organisations.

 As the poet of east describes,

فول بال کے کھیلنے والے تھے وہ ایک چھوٹے سے لڑکے کی طرح تھے
 "یاد ہے"

The optimal potential of an individual can not be evaluated when he is born but the passage of time determines his capabilities.

Moreover, it is not possible that a person always soars to be great, he/she can also be demolished. Colonel Ghaddafi enjoyed - three decades of reign and govern many years, today his sons are living in exile.

Mughal empire was created many years ago and they made various distinguish monuments but they are no more in our current world. Red Indians were living a prosperouse life and now we just listen their stories. There is a well known saying that "we built supreme structure to live in, but after a century different identities would assemble to live in that."

However, there are different faces of life, but what ever J.K Rowling described, can also be evaluated positively. A man is a social animal, and if an individual works for change his living, then there are many examples which narrate that anyone can attain possible opportunities, he can be a king or queen. Society and good peer groups make a sound person to accomplish various levels. The gatherings of a garage constructed a company, was named as Micro Apple Inc. The pioneer was Steve Jobs. Apple company is a well known for their essential products in digital markets. Social aspects can well change any individual.

The conditions which are faced by a kid can grow him to be a remarkable performer. Indian ex. cricketer M.S Dhoni was a ticket collector, and now he managed to escape the poverty. It is tough to get out of many social difficulties, but it is possible also. Today's none is going to write his name as someone.

A well known Islamic personality "Hazrat Bilal Habshi" was born as a slave, till many decades of his life, he was in slavery, now every muslim knows him, being first Mover of Islam.

Although a person can face many perturb situations, someone can be at the bottom of success, but is not assure she would be there always. Social conditions are decisive and unbearable. If someone wants to change then he can also.

Who noted that french revolution can be brought up by proletariat and it was brought by lower class. The kings and queens are numero in french societies.

Demographic changes can also influence anyone. If a person is born in a developed country, he/she can avail different conditions. It is not possible for a developing countries man to be a well known person like Elon Musk.

The educational probabilities can also affect and per capita income loved ones at schools.

The demographical effects can remark greatly, either though it is sports or something else. For instance, people of Brazil give great value to playing football and there are many football players with huge income, Neymar J.R is earning about 200 Million Dollars from sports, in contrast to that game Pakistan cannot even though qualify for Worldcup. Demographical conditions effect too much on individual's growth.

Economical conditions can also put shackles in someone's wrist. Per capita income also makes a marginal difference for any man. It was noted in an econometrics thesis, that parental income can also affects a child's education. The parameter was based on many variables and resultantly, it was proved that those parents who earn less, are not giving well education to their children. Moreover, developing nations can also face huge amount of illitarcy, due to their ungrowth in Gross Domestic product (GDP). However, various Non-governmental organs are changing the delinima, by supporting them essentials to grow higher to attain a good earning.

The slogan "Every thing for the sake of Motherland" was listened at the time of Mercantilism, when European nations were exploring new colonies. The attain every possible mean to be developed economies.

person is religion. who had thought, that in dark age of arab civilization would see enlightenment, and inception of religious prosperity would be attain by them. The appearance of Prophet Muhammad <sup>PRPH</sup> was a great blessing for those arrogant arabs. Many religious scholars are known for the admirable work, Shah Waliullah translated Holy Quran in Persian. And, various educators are known because of their contributions in Islam Religion also numerous persons character to attain possible ikhar to be famous. No one was aware that the marginal world would be changed by many known religious personalities.

Personal values are another element which can differentiate an individual to be renowned if we distinguish between good or bad and our selections are preferable in society then it also can encourage us to be determined. Quid-e-Azam was able to work in congress but he switched to Muslim league and this resulted as a great personality for the Muslims of subcontinent. The decision may can also comfort an individual to name him in the dares of the world for centuries.

Our world is full of numerous great personalities. Elon Musk was born somewhere he known as world richest person. George Washington to Joe Biden United States well known persons. The essence of their selection promotes them in history. The facebook's owner Mark Zuckerberg is another example in our current world. They were born unknown, today every laymen knows their names. Makhir Muhammad is well known for his reforms for his country (Indonesia). The world is exemplified with such personalities, who can fulfil the remarks of J.K Rowling.

The sayings of her are not only assumptions, but are indeed solidified for many known masses. The capability approach got Noble prize and was evaluated by great economist Amrita sen, today every-one knows him that if a person is given the same platform but his capability is lacking, he can not perform on his optimum level.

John M Keynes was unknown, but after great depression of Germany, he is known in the history. He is renowned for his work in the time, where buyers were standing outside the market but was unable to purchase goods due to lacking in per capita income.

The little corporal was another example who returned his nation. Napoleon Bonaparte fought twenty five years and also provided basic reforms to his nation. Allama Muhammad Iqbal was named so by British Government, and history knows his name as the "Poet of east". At last these all were born ~~then~~ unknown, it did not marketed, but today without naming them many libraries are empty.

Furthermore, developing nations grown as giant economies. It was impossible to think that Japan would overcome after World War II, but they emerged as noble economies. Israel was not on the map of the world. The atrocities of apartheid Israel can not be hidden in history, how much western media hides them they are appeared as tyrants. But whatsoever they did Israel Jews merged and established their country. It pointing is comparatively deterring an individuals efforts. But it is also a capable approach for nations of east and west to dawn till dusk.

In conclusion, the author's of "Harry potary" invites an encouraging point for those who think that they are limited. People like Nelson Mandela, Cristiano Ronaldo and many more came from shelters to many big houses. Today unknown can enlighten the tomorrow of his. There are many elements, which can collaborate in future's differences. Persons and nations are groomed to nobody till everybody. J.K Rowling describes the achievements of an individual which can change the world. If you mould a kid, he can be a thief and a game changer too. It matters not where anyone is born, he can make a destination on Mars.
