If women are not protected socially, can legal actions protect them?

Thesis statement must classify your stance esp. in argumentative essay

If?

Outline

1- Introduction: Thesis statement: - Women are not protected socially, but legal actions can protect women. In fact, legal actions, such as protection in participation act, no discrimination in participation act, domestic protection act etc are safeguards of women. However, women face social injuries including, blackmailing, disparity, domestic violence etc. therefore, legal actions put an iron hand against social injuries and protect women legally.
