"Men's equality respects
women's equality."
(-Jermassh)

Gender has multiple meanings. In fact, gender is an inclusive term focuses on all individuals. However, the word "GENDER" can be deconstructed into multi-dimensional norms. Therefore, gender has multiple meanings.

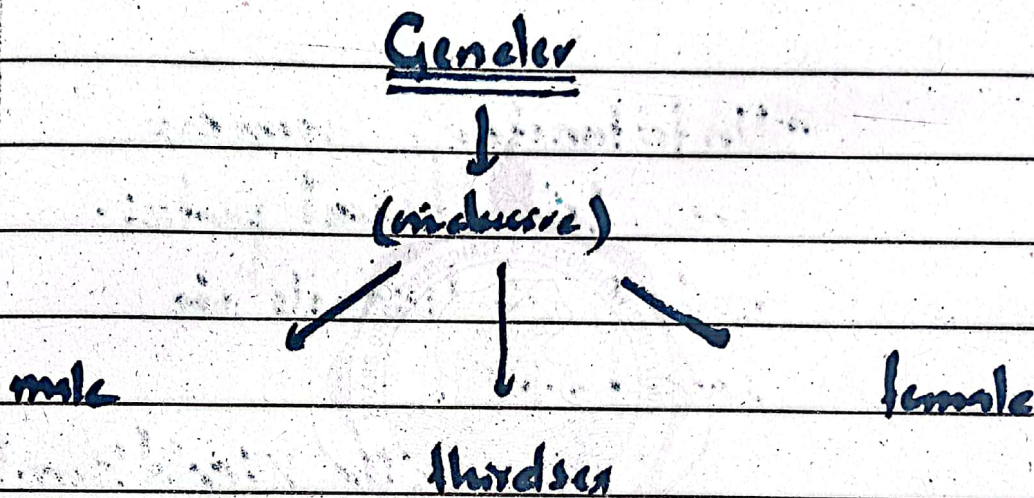

2. Definition of 'gender'

"Gender is an inclusive term that focuses on all individuals of society."

(-Jermassh)

Gender has an inclusive concept. In fact, gender focuses on all societal changes of male, female, and third sex. Thus, gender is an inclusive term focuses on all individuals equally.

3.

3- Deconstruction of the word 'Gender'

"Social changes in perspectives of people regarding individuals of society, known as deconstruction."

(Toqeer Hussain)

Deconstruction of gender

der is as follows:

a) Sociology of gender

Social change leads to sociology of gender. In fact, sociology demands just role of all individuals in society.

"Unfortunately, women are less social participated individuals in society."

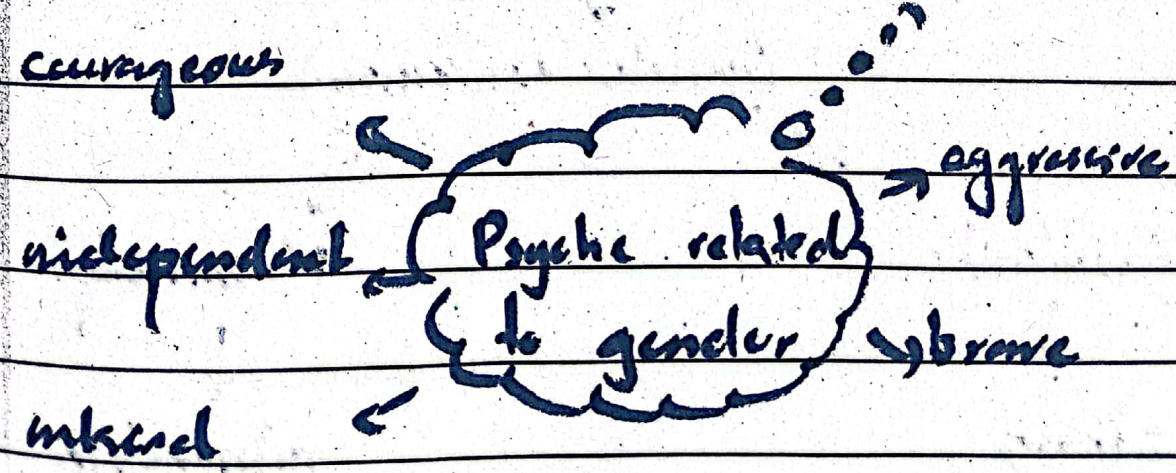

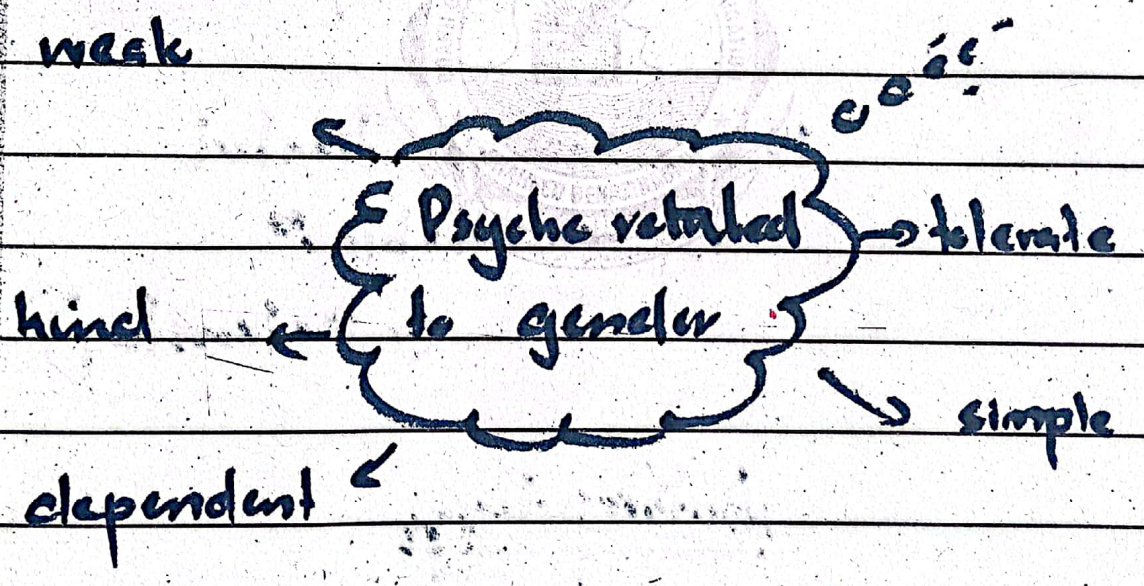

(- The World Bank Report, 2023)

Therefore, sociology of gender is one aspect of deconstruction.

b) Psychology of gender

Moreover, psychology is other form of deconstruction. Psyche of people also affects gender.

" Women are weak,
tolerate, simple, kind
and dependent;
however,
men are brave,
courageous, aggressive,
unkind, and independent."
(- Psychodynamic
theory of Sigmund Freud)

Hence, anthropology is also deconstruction of gender.

d) Biology of gender

Further, gender can also be deconstructed Biologically. Biologically, males are considered as superior to females.

"Male genital organ 'penis' is a potential source of pleasure."

(- Sigmund Freud, Penis Envy Theory)

Thus, gender can also be deconstructed biologically.

e) History of gender

Gender is also linked with history. In fact, gender can be deconstructed historically.

"Oh'man! You all are equal in society."

(- Prophet P.B.U.H,
The last sermon)

Thus, gender also deconstructed
historically.

↳ Political science of gender

Furthermore, gender
can be deconstructed in political science. All individuals should be treated equally in politics.

"In general election of 2019, only five trans-
genders were candidates in politics."

(- Farid Bano, Gender
or issues of candidates, 2019)

Therefore, gender can also be deconstructed politically.

g) literature of gender

Literature is also one aspect of deconstruction of gender. Women are always expressed different from man in literature.

"Females are called hostless, while male is called host; however, there should not be opposite pairs, but neutrality."

(Historicizing Construction Theory)

literature of gender

Males

host

prince

Females

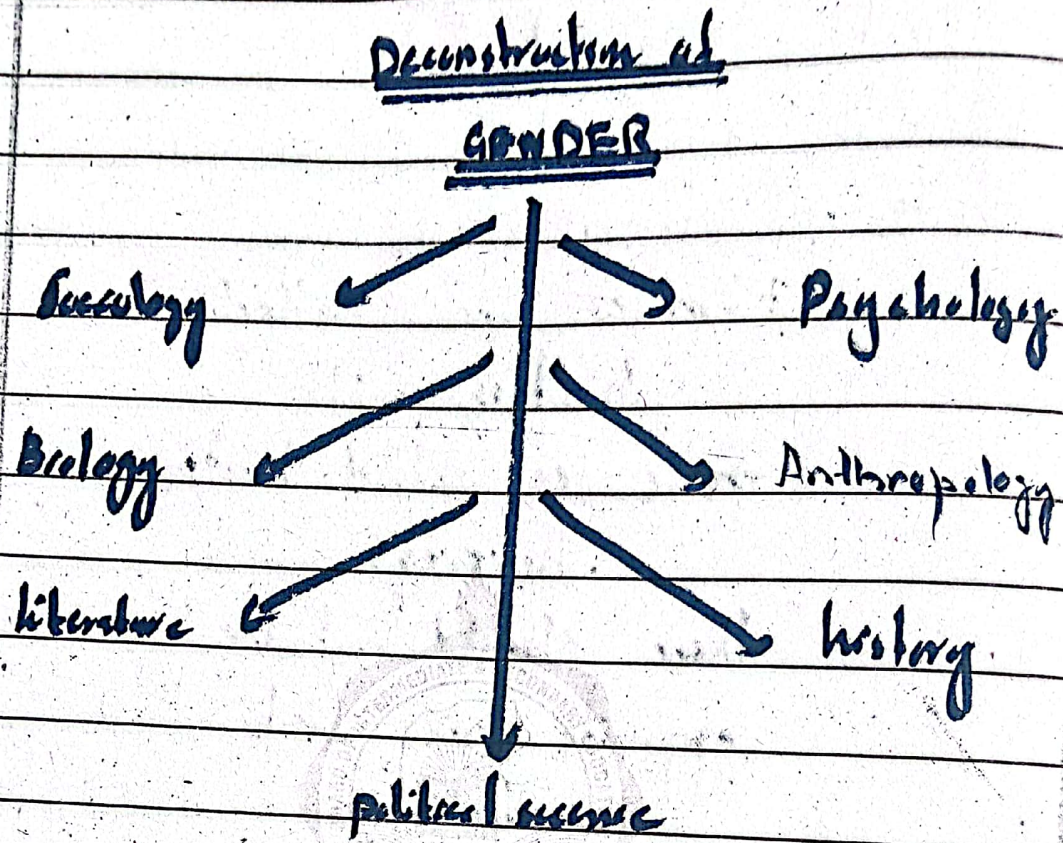

hostless

princess

Thus, gender can be deconstructed

in literature.

4. Conclusion

"Gender is an essence of all individuals with fair, just, and equality."
