

Is maintaining world peace is responsibility of only super-power

1. Introduction

2. Only super-powers are responsible for maintaining world peace is a myth or reality

3. Only super-power are responsible for maintaining peace in the world arena (arguments)

a. Super-powers are the causes behind major conflicts

b. Super-powers controls and shapes the world political arena (day to day) - indeed

c. Super power dominates the global institutions

d. Major weapon producer and distributor are super-power states.

e. The rule of 'Might is Right' make up the structure of world

4. Super-powers can be responsible for maintaining peace in the world, but, it is not entirely their responsibility

- a. Bilateral conflicts among states and communal violence is not really a fault of super-powers
- b. Self-interests of every state are what who drives the world politics.
- c. Every state behaves as sovereign in global institutions
- d. Militarization of the state is a choice
- e. International rules and regulations rule out the concept of Right is Right.

4. 5. How only super-powers can maintain are responsible for maintaining and promoting peace.

- a. All conflicts have their roots in the interest of super-powers and driven by them
- b. Self-interests of every state are personal but method of achieving them comes from super-powers
- c. Major shares and veto-power of super-power can not be ignored.

Date: _____

d. Militarization of states is a chain reaction in global political arena

e. Laws are mould to fit the powerful.

6. Conclusion