

Economic Indications and Pakistan

Date: _____

Economic indications do not bode well for Pakistan. The country has been strangling with economic downturns since long; however in one and half year it has grappled with severe economic problems. National Reserves have reduced to a lowest ebb, circular debts have increased manifold, and foreign direct investment is also, seemingly, breathing his last. According to economic survey of Pakistan, Gross Domestic Product (GDP) slows to a 0.4 per cent annual rate during the second half of 2023. To top it all, economic sector of Pakistan is not in a good position.
