

Is feminism a clearly understood concept in our society? (July 2023 mock)

Outline :

1. Introduction :

Thesis statement: Duality of understanding feminism is prevailing in our society. Feminism is not clearly understood in our society. However, removing negative connotation with feminism leads to its understanding.

2. Understanding the concept of feminism

3. Feminism is not clearly understood concept in our society

a) Usurping the rights of men

b) Fighting for power to create matriarchy

c) Westernised propaganda against Muslims

d) Only women can be feminists

e) Feminism demonises men

4. Feminism is clearly understood concept in our society

a) Advocating gender equality

b) Trying to balance the power dynamics

c) Movement of ending exploitation of women.

(PTO)

d) Participating all genders irrespective of colour, creed and race

5. How feminism can be clearly understood in our society

a) Clarifying goals of feminism

b) Restoring power to subordinated genders

c) Highlighting efforts for supporting human rights

d) Remove negative connotation with word feminism

e) Eliminating prevailing prejudice of marginal class

6. Conclusion

Essay

It is rightly said that everything that irritates us about others can lead us to an understanding of ourselves. These words are clearly resolute with understanding feminism in our society. People understand feminism as per their knowledge of women issues and prejudice. It is therefore a duality of understanding feminism is prevailing in our society. Feminism is not clearly understood in our society. However, removing negative connotation with feminism leads to its understanding. Society does not understand feminism because feminism is considered as a propaganda of usurping the rights of men, a fight for snatching powers to establish a matriarchal society and a westernised propaganda against Muslims. Similarly, feminism is wrongly connected with women and considered as harmful to men. However, the supporters of feminism deny all the allegations against feminism. They argue that feminism is mostly understood in the society. They justify that feminism is all about advocating gender equality, balancing the power dynamics, ending exploitation of women, presenting all genders and intimating the existing atrocities. Although supporters of feminism are right at some extent, yet feminism could not be fully understood ~~by~~ without clarifying the goals of feminism, restoring power to marginal groups, highlighting multiple efforts for supporting human rights, removing negative connotations with word feminism, and eliminating prevailing prejudice of marginal class.