

ACADEMIC PARAGRAPH STRUCTURE

(Sub-heading: Nuclear challenge to World Peace during 21st century. ^{threat})

Masha!

Topic Sentence	The threat of Nuclear challenge poses a grave challenge to world peace.
Explanatory or Reasoning sentence	^{Existing stockpiles of} Nuclear weapons pose danger to humanity due to their existing stockpile.
Supporting Point (1)	There are at least 23,000 nuclear bombs still in existence - more than a third of these weapons - over 7,000 - remain operationally deployed.
Example (1)	World War II was escaped on a 2 to 3 votes during the Cuban Missile Crisis when a Russian submarine lost communication with Moscow and not knowing whether a war had broken or not, the commander had to launch his nuclear torpedo and, overwhelmed by the responsibility, put it to a vote (http://govans.org/speeches/speech430.html , November, 2010). ^{due to two three}
SP 2 (optional)	Read again to ensure clarity
Ex 2 (to be written if SP2 is given)
Concluding Sentence	Hence, as long as nuclear warheads exist, ^{they are} going to be a challenge to world peace.

vague expression