

Falsehood: A Base of All Evils.

Falsehood and, upto some extent, obstinacy are the most dangerous social evils that people are unaware of. These grow with the society and take ^{control} control over its people. ~~According to Pythagoreans,~~ truth is finite and has limits and untruth is multidimensional and uncertain.

The Author says that life should be sacrificed over truth.

~~According to Montaigne,~~ Company of ^a dog is better than a liar and silence is better than lying.

Do not include examples in precis. Just give their gist. Mistakes identified. Improvement needed.

Please include the original passage in the pdf