It is commonly perceived that people with no sense of direction in life are the real threat to this world. Even the devil ~~it can be assumed,~~ dislikes laziness and keeps people on their feet always. However, the current confusing state of the world is due to the lack of actions like sympathy and direction. Numerous accounts in history show that humanity would have benefitted for more, if laziness had not been challenged as being unfruitful. People waste their time by engaging in activities just for the sake of it even though doing nothing would bring them more mental peace, than wasting their energies elsewhere.

A hungry lion slipped out of the forest into a banyard one evening. When he saw a plump donkey, his mouth began to water. But just as he was ready to jump on the donkey, a rooster crowed. He was frightened and so turned away into the forest again. "Hey! Look at that cowardly lion," the donkey brayed to the rooster. "I am going to chase him!" and the donkey ran after the lion. "Wait!" the rooster shouted, "You don't know that!" but it was too late. The lion had turned and killed the donkey.
