to disseminate false information in order to defame rivals. For example, Putin is successful leader who boost a high level of domestic support. Some quarters have criticized Putin for using social media to control the type and amount of information to be given to the public. To conclude that, it is a pity that social media has in modern era become an agent of information.

Social media reduces distance among people. presently, person sitting in one corner of the world can contact a person living in another corner of the world. Previously, it was difficult for person to contact within a few minutes. It was possible in dreams, but social media has materialized man's dream to contact any person at any time in the world. For example, one person live in foreign country, they contact through Facebook, twitter and whatsapp tools. To sum up, it can be social media has overcome distance among the people.

The discussion so far has brought to the fore an important lesson social media platforms, if used wisely, can be a major blessing for the society. However, if the influence of social media is abused, it can be ~~irrelevant~~ <sup>irrelevant</sup> weak force on the society. Hence, the next few paragraphs would be devoted to elucidating the problems or challenges that the society has had to face as a result of the abuse of social media.

The pitfall of social media is exploitation by the terrorist to spread the extremist ideology. Various terrorist outfit prey on potential recruit through these digital platforms. The digital space is one shop for extremist outfit in terms of brainwashing people and teaching them different form of violent activities. For example, the social media campaign launched by ISIS, targeted the people on social media platforms according to report published by "AL JAZEERA", the case of Noureen Iqbal is crucial in this regard. On the whole, the power of social is being exploited by radical outfit in terms of spread hate literature and the terrorist ideology.

The social media has dealt people fundamental rights to privacy. With so much data on the websites, various hackers and mining firms have resorted to scooping people's personal information from digital domain without people having any knowledge about this malpractice.

It is a major violation of the fundamental rights to privacy. For example on the 16th of March 2018, the New York Times reported that a data mining firm Cambridge Analytical that worked on Trump's presidential campaign had improperly obtained access to million user profiles. To conclude, this episode has helped the stance of social media critics who blame such platforms for compromising people's fundamental right to privacy.

Social media has also shouldered the blame of publicizing certain television shows and games.

In the modern era, whenever a particular television show trends, people come to know of it through their circle of friends, primarily on social media.

One such show was "Thirteen Reasons Why". It increased in popularity owing to the publicity through social media. However, this was criticized on the ground that it set a bad precedent for teenagers to resort to suicide as a means of escape from their worries.

For example, the game "Blue Whale", whereby a character would have hypnotizing effects on those playing the game. To sum up, the publicity of shows or games on social media drew criticism regarding how social media can be a curse for the society provided its power is not effectively regulated.

In addition to this, social media widens the gap between parents and their children. Some parents use social media unnecessarily. They do not give proper time to their children. Consequently, children start going away from their parents which is bad for family. Such children may develop feeling of inferiority. They search love outside of their home when their parents prefer social media websites and gadgets over them. Hence, this platform has created widened gap between parents and their childrens.

Another increasing potency of social media is that it has dealt a major blow to the direct modes of communication. From sociological standpoint, various authors have cited concern regarding people increasingly occupying digital personalities. This entails that rather holding

For examples according to Haxist, in his book 21 lessons for the 21st century, has termed social media as a form of digital dictatorship. In a nutshell, this clearly depicts that the growing influence of social media platform has made of communication more and more impersonal.

Social media keeps people away from nature. In past people used to love recreational activities. They were closer to nature. People visited parks and beaches to entertain themselves. Nowdays, people hardly find time to admire beauty of nature. For example, according to William H Davies in poems "Leisure". what is this life if, full of care, we have no time to stand and stare. So, social media has
