It is the poor-due which is "taken from the rich and given to poor". According to the Holy Quran, there are eight heads of Zakat among whom it needs to be distributed. By giving Zakat, it has various social impacts like poverty alleviation, social justice, generosity, cooperation, circulation of wealth and brotherhood. In fact, distribution of Zakat can alleviate poverty as it circulates wealth, gives financial aid to poor, eliminates greed, provides social security and eradicates the practice of hoarding.

2) Zakat in Islam:

Allah says in Holy Quran:

"Lo! Those who believe and do good deeds and establish prayer and pay the poor-due, their reward is with their Lord." (2:277)

Allah says in another place in Holy Quran
