

A Trip to Cherokee.

The writer wanted to visit a calmful place, it was difficult for him to decide a location.

The writer went to Cherokee to spend vacation on the suggestion of his friend. They selected a town Qualla to visit. It was a beautiful place surrounded with mountains. The writer with the help of the natives reached to the souvenir shop. This shop were filled with many traditional articles. Owner of the shop, who was very fluent in english, welcomed them. They had a good communication with shop owner. Mr. George told them about when he was a woodcutter.

The shopkeeper told them, how he used to remain busy during the Importance of morality in Society.

The writer in this passage emphasized on the need of morality for society. Morality is required to promote peace and for well-being of society. Traditionally, this sacred duty was accorded to clerics. But they corrupted and <sup>failed to</sup> fulfill their responsibility. Now, Educators should play their role to train human beings on moral standards. Only moral human beings can promote kindness and sympathy in society.
