

Pathways to Pakistan Progress

"Outlines"

1. Introduction

- 1.1. Attention grabber.
- 1.2. General sentence.
- 1.3. Thesis statement.

All developed Countries of the world, had made certain harsh and soft decisions in order to bring their nations and states at current level. But these Countries has had well resourced and were developed enough - So, the implementation of tough decisions was not a concern for them. But in Pakistan Progress, it is not that much simple. In order to bring Pakistan in the queue of those developed countries and to put it on the track of Progress, we need to adopt certain easy ways. Pakistan's Progress can easily be achieved if we promote education, performing long terms projects, By eradicating the corruption from the roots, By stopping brain drain, making a peaceful environment in the country and by bringing certain reforms. These simple and effective paths can easily lead Pakistan to the Progress.

2. Main body:

2.1. By Promoting Education

2.1.1. By establishing new school.

2.1.2. Ending the discrimination among elite, middle and lower class education system.

2.1.3. Same curriculum for whole country.

2.1.4. Promoting girls/women education.

2.2. By Promoting Science And Technology

2.2.1. Building research centers.

2.2.2. Computer based education

2.2.3. Making industrial-educational links.

2.2.4. Offering technical courses at low costs.

2.3. By curbing the corruption.

2.3.1. By ending Nepotism.

2.3.2. Limiting quota system among.

2.3.3. Stopping brain drain

2.3.4. Creating merit based opportunities.

2.3.5. Enforcing rule of law

2.4. By Performing long term projects.

2.4.1. Reducing imports and increasing exports.

2.4.2. Investing in stock exchange.

2.4.3. Making tax collection effective.

2.4.4. Getting rid of foreign loans.

2.5. Promoting Peace:

2.5.1. Ending Terrorism.

2.5.2. Promoting Tourism.

2.5.3. Updating our infrastructure to international level.

2.5.4. Inviting foreign bloggers for promotion.

2.6. Controlling natural disasters:

2.6.1. Sappling new plants.

2.6.2. Constructing proper drainage system.

2.6.3. Constructing dams

2.6.4. Avoid hewing of trees.

2.7. By bringing Reforms:

2.7.1. Privatization is the need of hour.

2.7.2. Industrializing our Country

2.7.3. Reforming agriculture sector.

2.7.4. Reforms in inner environment of government organisation.

2.8. Supporting new leadership.

2.8.1. Appointing right person for right job.

2.8.2. Supporting sincere leadership of the country.

2.8.3. Age of Retirement for Politicians.

2.8.4. Limiting the terms to hold office.

2.8.5. Establishing a true democratic Government.

3. Conclusion:

1. Introduction.

The story of modern India is the biggest one in the history of Progress. After almost 76 years of its independence, their economy surpassed the British economy and became world fifth best economy by Gross Domestic Product (GDP) - A Country with a literacy rate of just 12-Percent and life expectancy of 32-years, at the the time of independence, will become world's third best economy in near future - This only happened by progress in six sectors. These sectors were life, health, wealth, safety, literacy and sustenance. With each of these, life in India became idealized. The states of Pakistan and India, both have the same origin of birth and same conditions to survive in the world. But now, if we look, India is far away in progress as compared to Pakistan. India is like one of the developed countries in the world. To achieve a position globally, the country has to make certain harsh and soft decisions. But the developed countries have had well-resourced and even developed enough. So, the implementation of some tough decisions was not a concern for them. Now, in case of Pakistan, the situations and circumstances are more challenging. In order to bring our beloved country in queue of these developed nations and to put on the track of progress, we need to adopt certain easy paths of progress. This could be happened by following the paths of promoting education, science and technology, curbing the corruption from roots, no compromise on short term projects, showing an image of peaceful nation, easy justice and proper politics that leads to the progress.

Words Count: 260