According to author, wars are the reason behind the breakdown of any civilization. War is like an evil that no one can escape from its catastrophic nature. In ancient time, war was seen as a strength of getting wealth and having military might. War was seen as a source of getting economic prosperity and man power. Owing to this, current view about wars are not that much appealing. Weapons of mass destruction can be seen as a malignant tissues and war is considered as a cancer. Two strategies can be helpful to avoid war in near future. Individual's efforts and efforts at government/state level. However, the best strategy can be pre-emptive efforts to avoid war in future. Peace making strategies can be helpful in this regard.
