

REWRITE THE FOLLOWING DIALOGUE, WRITTEN IN DIRECT SPEECH, IN A PARAGRAPH FORM. (5)

Jack: Hello, Swarup! Swatting away as usual. Come out, man; shut up your old books, and come and have a game of tennis.

Swarup: I am sorry I cannot do that, Jack. The examination is drawing near, and I want every hour I can get for study.

Jack: Oh! Hang all examinations! I do not worry about mine. What is the use of them, any way?

Swarup: Well, you can't get a degree if you don't pass the examination; and I have set my heart on being a graduate.

Jack: And pray what good will graduation do you? You may get a clerkship in a government office; but that's all, and there are hundreds of fellows who have got their degrees, and are no nearer getting jobs of any sort.

Swarup: That may be so; but I am not studying so much to pass my examination and obtain my degree, as to store my mind with knowledge and develop my intellectual faculties.

Jack greeted Swarp and after criticizing his obsession with books asked him to close them and play tennis with him. Swarp apologizes for his unavailability because his examination was approaching and he wanted to utilize his full time for study. Jack then showed his carelessness and suggested him to leave all that because those were useless for him. Swarp warned him the consequence of failing the examination and told him ~~that~~ ^{about} his devotion of being graduate. Jack again represented the purposelessness of graduation that he might get clerkship in any government office and it offers nothing more than that as many graduates are jobless. Swarp agreed with him but clarified that he is not studying for getting degree only but to enhance his knowledge and cognitive skills.
