

Causes and Remedies of Political Instability in Pakistan

Outline

1. Introduction

Thesis Statement: There are a lot of reasons which underscore the root cause of political instability in Pakistan. These reasons are affecting the country negatively. However by adopting comprehensive remedies in country long term stability can be build.

2. The causes and remedies of political instability in Pakistan

3. What are the causes of political instability in Pakistan

- a. Macro-economic conditions play a significant role for political instability in Pakistan
- b. Frequent changes in government cause political instability in the country
- c. Corruption and income inequality are closely correlated with political instability
- d. Interference of foreign countries leads to political instability.
- e. Incompetent people working on major seats lead to ineffective governance
- f. Power concentration in some specific hands cause political instability

g. Ethnic and religious tensions cause political instability in the country

4. Consequences of Political Instability in Pakistan

a. Political instability undermines the economic growth of the country

b. Political instability prevails corruption

c. Political instability rises terrorism in the country

d. Political instability decreases Foreign Direct Investment in the country

5. Remedies of political instability in Pakistan

a. Political instability decreases by conducting transparent and unbiased elections

b. Political instable country needs to instill the concept of national integrity

c. Every citizen works mutually for the betterment of Pakistan

d. Enforcement of constitutional law is true essence for the political stability

e. Citizen engagement in politics to pull the country out of political doldrums

f. Resolve the center-province conflicts for political stability of the country

6. Conclusion