Climate Change Effect

Climate has effect on humans. Cold climate make us active but severe cold make us dull and create depression. Similarly, hot weather has less motive for work. Despite of these, in moderate cold climate people do struggle for survival. He has need strong houses, warm cloths, fuels and the nourishing food. In tropic, life is easy as compared to tropics and need little resource. They can more by little efforts. Human nature behave different in different season. Like in hot weather, we take life easy on other hand, in cold weather, we face difficulties. precis word: 102
