

2019 Preis "How to Teach"

- Modern educational theorists wrongfully give ^{most} importance to negligence and less towards involvement with children. With enough attention, ~~they~~ ^{children} will listen to ~~you~~ ^{teachers} willingly. It's meaningless to nurture them for personal gains; rather basis should be pure joy on their presence. Teachers like this will not cause psychological harm when ~~co~~ teaching children. However, overworked people can not develop this quality; therefore two hours is enough time for teaching ~~education~~ where ^{their} remaining hours are not spent with children. Under disciplined children distress the teacher; however meaningless rules to control them must be avoided as correct course of action is decided on the spot. Lastly, love and consideration can not be replaced with rules. (113 words)
