

The worst form of inequality is to try to make unequal things equal

1- Introduction

The preference of equality to equity leads toward the worst form of inequality. It has devastating repercussions, as it fuels stratification and iniquity. However, this worst form of inequality can be corrected by taking effective measures.

2- How the worst form of inequality is to try to make unequal things equal

3- Causes that lead toward the efforts of making unequal things equal

- a- ~~Capital~~ Economic system favoring equality rather than equity
- b- Political Polarization
- c- Education system preferring equality to equity
- d- Ineffective Justice System
- e- Lack of Principles in society
- f- Cultural Norms favoring equality rather than equity
- g- Media portrayals that equate equality with equity

4. Consequences resulted from the efforts of making unequal things equal

- a- Accumulation of wealth in few hands
- b- Formulation of policies favoring only the elite
- c- Increased social stratification
- d- Discontentment of youth with the state
- e- Brain drain
- f- Lack of merit consideration in jobs
- g- Culture of corruption in society

5. Conclusion