Natural calamity is an unpreditable situation of such an event that causes harmful effects to society. Many natural calamities damage environment and people living in it. Some of these are earth quacks, storms, floods, tsunami, land sliding (process of sliding of aggregated soil or rock from upper to lower level), volcano bursting, and iceberg. Local limit measures the degree or severity of a clamity.

▪ Practice Exercise

In every country, people imagine that they are the best and the cleverest and the others are not so good as they are. The Englishman thinks that he and his country are the best; the Frenchman is very proud of France. The Germans and Italians think no less of their countries and many Pakistanis imagine that Pakistan is in many ways the greatest country in the world. This is wrong. Everybody wants to think well of himself and his country. But really there is no person who has not got some good and some bad qualities. In the same way, there is no country which is not partly good and partly bad. We must take the good wherever we find it and try to remove the bad wherever it may be. We are, of course, most concerned with our own country. Unfortunately, it is in a bad way today. Many of our people are poor and unhappy. They have no joy in their lives. We have to find out how we can make them happier. We have to see what is good in our ways and customs and try to keep it, and whatever is bad we have to throw away. If we find anything good in other countries, we should certainly take it.

Learning Good From Each Other

Perception Vs Reality

Learning from Other Countries

Every nation thinks that it is the best. This is wrong perception. People have Some good and some bad qualities. Similarly, every country has some good and some bad ways. Every nation must take good wherever it finds it. In our country, people need to find what is good in their ways and maintain it. In the same way, whatever is bad must be replaced with good. In this regard, people can take anything good from other countries.
