

How Education finish the Poverty?

In every poor societies the literacy rate is always seems to be low. People are often engage in just completing their three times meal and they teach their children the same as they do. Simply, they are hand to mouth families. However, if someone from them decides to finish this poverty, the very first way he chooses is the education. As education finish the poverty in various ways. Firstly, education gives employment. When a person qualified in some specific field. It has many chances to work with handsome pay. Secondly, education helps in economic growth. When a person gets a handsome pay, he take out his family from their poor standard of living due to which they get rid of their financial and problems. Moreover, the poor people does not get much importance as in society. So an educated and successful men also gets social acceptance. Furthermore education teaches a man about his social, fundamental
