

(English Essay)

DATE:   /  /   Pathways for Prosperity of Pakistan:

Pakistan is a country which is categorized in the developing states. Pakistan is developing day by day, but of course there are some lacks in different departments. For instance, bureaucracy, tourism sector, agriculture and many more. Pakistan may prosper more fastly if we work on our different departments in which we see lack; for instance we may work on Agriculture, tourism sector; advance technology through which we advance or upgrade our departments, by installation of industries through which there would be a job facilities and also generate a great revenue, it may also play a key role in the economic growth and GDP, There should be encouragement of small and commercial type of business through which there would be a creation of jobs and help for the betterment of economic growth. It is a fact that agriculture department has a key role in the prosperity of Pakistan because up to 50% of our economy is dependent on the Agriculture sector, but there are some lacks in Agriculture department because it seems that in Pakistan the Agriculture department is working on old methods, still in our villages

DATE: ___/___/___

there is lack of machinery and almost no use of technology, but if we work on it and use the technology it may play a key role for the prosperity of Pakistan. Import and export are the backbone similar to agriculture department if we use the technology and advance methods we may generate more, which is exported, so through export we may generate a high revenue. So these are some factors through which we may play an important role in the progress of Pakistan.